

穴埋め練習ディクテーション・シートの使い方

- ・書籍に添付の MP3 CD の音声を聞きとって、下線部を埋めてください。
- ・左のアルファベット付き番号は該当する音声ファイル名を示しています。
- ・繰り返し何度聞いても構いません。
- ・正解は書籍の本文で確認してください。

- C 001 This story happened a long time ago in a land _____. Once there was a young girl named Ella. It was a _____, but she was a special girl. She was very pretty. Whenever she went out, people stopped to look at her as she passed _____. And her character was as sweet as her looks. Her kind _____ made her face look all the more beautiful.
- C 002 Ella lived with her _____ mother and father in a large _____ house. Their house was not far from the castle of their country's king. The girl loved all kinds of animals. She had many _____. She had a dog, two cats, three birds and some fish. Ella took good care of her pets. But she was an only child. Sometimes she felt lonely. She often wished for a baby sister to play with. When Ella was _____, her dear mother died. After that, the girl _____ quiet and sad.
- C 003 Ella's father wanted his _____ to be happy again. He knew that she wanted a sister. He thought that she would _____ if he remarried. So he married a society lady with two daughters. The girls were close _____ to Ella. Then the father set off on a long business trip. He _____ make money for his new family.
- C 004 Soon Ella discovered that her _____ and two stepsisters were not very nice people. The mother was interested _____ in money. She liked to _____ fancy clothes. She wanted to buy many expensive things. She expected her daughters to marry into rich families. But the sisters were _____ pretty _____ friendly enough to have suitors. They were always fighting with each other. They never spoke a kind word to anyone. And they _____ had mean looks on their faces.

- C 005 After the _____ moved into Ella's house, they _____ to treat Ella badly. They were jealous of Ella because she was pretty and _____. So they made her be their house servant. They _____ her wear nice clothes. They took away Ella's bedroom and pretty things. They gave her pets away. They made Ella _____ all the work. _____ Ella had to wash the dishes and clean the floors. She cleaned the house from _____ to bottom and made the beds, too.
- C 006 But Ella _____ had even a bed of her own to sleep in. Her mean stepmother made her stay in a _____ of the dark kitchen. The kitchen was on the _____ floor of the house. Ella had to sleep there to _____ the fire. She had to make sure the cinders still had a spark of flame in the morning. Each night she slept in the same clothes that she had worked in during _____. She lay herself down on a _____ of old rags in front of the fire. It was difficult to keep warm on the cold stone floor.
- C 007 From morning to night Ella worked hard. But _____ she finished one job, her sisters found another job for her to do. Instead of _____ her by her real name, her new family called her "Cinderella" because cinders from the fire _____ her face and clothes.
- C 008 _____ they ordered her up and down the stairs.
- C 009 "Cinderella, _____ the windows."
- C 010 "Cinderella, make _____."
- C 011 They never _____ her rest.
- C 012 Each day Cinderella had to get up early in the morning _____. She made breakfast, lunch and dinner. Cinderella also had to do the laundry for the _____ family. She carried _____ from the well. She heated the water on the kitchen fire.

- C 013 She boiled the clothes in a big _____. She scrubbed the clothes on a board, and hung them out to _____ in the _____. Cinderella worked like a common washerwoman. In winter _____ hurt her fingers. Yet she did the work and she tried to be cheerful.
- C 014 At the same time, the _____ women enjoyed a life of luxury. They stayed in the fine _____ rooms. They had soft beds with warm comforters. They had beautiful clothes to wear. They had large dressers with big mirrors _____ they could see themselves from head to _____. Cinderella did her best to please her stepfamily while her father was away. But they only seemed to hate her _____.
- C 015 This is because _____ she was always dirty and tired, dressed in rags with no shoes, Cinderella _____ looked much prettier than the other two girls. When young men came to the house, they were _____ interested in Cinderella.
- C 016 The men _____ looked at the stepsisters in their fine dresses and expensive shoes. Their mother began to _____ that her daughters would never find husbands. She stopped _____ Cinderella go out of the house, and _____ her in the kitchen when people came to visit.
- C 017 In this _____, Cinderella became a prisoner in her own house. Still, she tried very hard to be patient and helpful. Now the only friends _____ Cinderella had were the mice and the lizards in the garden. So she _____ to all the little animals. They made her smile and laugh. Her beautiful _____ voice could often be heard coming from the kitchen. In spite of her many _____, Cinderella grew more beautiful with each passing day.
- C 018 One day an important _____ came to the house. It was from the king and queen. There would be a _____ at the castle.

- C 019 All the ladies of the land _____ . It was a birthday party for the prince. He was turning twenty-one years old. His parents wanted him to _____ . The problem was that the prince did not have a girlfriend. The king and queen wanted every single lady in the kingdom to come to the ball. Then _____ the prince would fall in love with one of them. The young lady who became his wife _____ a princess. Someday she would be the queen. Everyone _____ who the lucky girl would be.
- C 020 When they _____ the letter, Cinderella's stepmother and stepsisters _____ with joy. Their mother wanted them to get married soon. She _____ that this was their best chance. Her two daughters did not know how to _____ and _____. Nor did they have enough money to pay other people to do the work for them. So marrying a prince was the perfect answer to their problems. They started _____ to get ready for the ball, even though it was many days _____.
- C 021 Cinderella _____ about the party from her sisters. But she had no time to do anything except _____. She didn't think she would _____ go. Also, she had no nice clothes to wear. _____ everyone would be dressed up in their finest clothes. That was _____ her stepsisters could think about: what they were going to wear to the party.
- C 022 Day after day the sisters went through their clothes. They _____ one thing and then another. They _____ cloth and ribbons. Cinderella had to _____ whole new dresses for them. They changed their hair styles again and again. They looked at themselves in the mirror _____. They practiced different dances. They dreamed of dancing with the prince, getting married and _____ queens someday. But no _____ how they dressed or fixed their hair, they still didn't look pretty. No beautiful clothes or hair styles could hide their mean _____.

- C 023 Finally they _____ what to wear, and told Cinderella to give all their clothes a final wash and _____ before the party. Cinderella worked _____ to help her stepsisters prepare, carrying and heating buckets of water and washing and ironing everything _____ they told her to. So she was kept busy helping her stepmother and stepsisters _____ the moment they left for the prince's birthday party. She wished them a safe journey and waved goodbye until they were out of _____. Then Cinderella noticed she couldn't see right. Her eyes were filled with tears. The strength left her body. At last she _____ the kitchen step and cried from her long unhappiness.
- C 024 Cinderella missed her _____. She had tried her best to help her new family while he was _____. But in return she did not get even a word of _____. The tears kept coming as Cinderella wondered about her father. _____? Would he ever come back? She only wanted to go to the party because all the young women in the kingdom were invited! This was the final _____ that made her cry.
- C 025 "I wish I _____ go to the party, too!" she said to herself. "I will work even harder and never cry again!" She would just _____, if only she could go! She thought she could stay in the _____ the room. Then no one would notice her _____ clothes. Even to look through a window would be enough to make her happy.
- C 026 Just then Cinderella saw a strange _____ coming toward her. She _____ and dried her eyes. Suddenly a strange _____ was standing in front of her. The old woman smiled kindly _____. "Ella, you will go to the party," she said in a gentle voice. "_____ you will dance with the prince."
- C 027 "But _____ can I do that?" asked Cinderella. "My sisters said _____ would laugh at my old rags. The whole kingdom is wearing nothing _____ their best clothes."

- C 028 “I am your fairy godmother,” _____ the old woman. “I have been watching over you during all your troubles. You have _____ to me that you are a _____. You will go to the party _____ you wish. Now it is time to get ready. First, bring me a pumpkin from the garden.”
- C 029 Cinderella wondered why this strange woman _____ a pumpkin. But she was a good girl so she did not ask _____. The fairy godmother also told her to bring the pumpkin vine with its pretty _____ flowers. Cinderella went out to the _____ garden. She found a big, _____ pumpkin. Soon she came back with the pumpkin and its vines.
- C 030 Next, Cinderella’s fairy godmother pointed to _____ that were running around in the grass. “Now I need _____ mice,” she said. Cinderella _____ a piece of cheese from the kitchen. She put the cheese down on the _____. Six mice came running up to eat it. Three of the mice were white and _____ of them were black. The mice began to _____ the cheese. Then Cinderella’s fairy godmother gently touched each mouse with her magic wand. _____, the mice vanished. When she touched the pumpkin and its vines and flowers, these _____ disappeared.
- C 031 Cinderella asked, “Where _____ they go?”
- C 032 “Not _____, my dear, not far. They are outside on the _____. They are waiting for you,” answered her fairy godmother.
- C 033 When Cinderella _____ to the street, she saw neither the pumpkin nor the mice. Instead there was a beautiful orange carriage with six _____ horses—three black and three white. Each horse had a _____ green leather harness with a lovely orange headpiece.

- C 034 Next, Cinderella's fairy godmother went to the window. A small lizard was _____ on the glass. When the old woman _____ it with her wand, the lizard disappeared. At the same time, a _____ coachman appeared outside. He wore a green satin uniform. The coachman quickly _____ onto the carriage. He cracked his new whip to try it _____.
- C 035 "My _____!" said Cinderella. "Your _____ is truly wonderful. Thank you for your visit. But I am _____ I still can not go to the ball. Look at my old dress. Plus, I don't have any _____ to wear." She looked down at her torn, _____ dress. Her feet were dirty, too.
- C 036 "Don't worry," said the fairy godmother. "I am not finished with you _____."
- C 037 With _____, Cinderella's fairy godmother pointed her wand at the girl's old dress. It changed into a beautiful gown. The new dress was a _____ that no one had ever seen _____. It was like the color of shiny blue insect wings. On Cinderella's feet there was a new _____ shoes. They were made of glass, so Cinderella looked like she was floating above the _____ in her butterfly dress. On her head there was a diamond _____. It was just like a crown for a princess! She looked perfect!
- C 038 "_____, now you must _____ and have a good time!" said Cinderella's fairy godmother. "Just remember, the magic will _____ only until twelve midnight. After that your dress will change _____ like it was before. The carriage will be a pumpkin again. The coachman and horses will _____ into a lizard and mice. If you are late you will have to walk home. However, the _____ are my gift to you. You may keep them. Promise me that you will come back home _____ the clock strikes twelve."

- C 039 Cinderella was so _____ that it was hard for her to speak. But she promised to come home _____. Then she thanked her fairy godmother again, and ran out to the carriage. It was as beautiful _____ as it was outside. The coachman bowed to Cinderella. Then he _____ the door and they _____. Cinderella was finally going to the prince's party!
- C 040 At the castle, all the _____ were already there. Everyone was eating and drinking and having a _____. Everyone except the young prince. He was _____ bored. All the girls waved and called out to him. He was not interested in _____ of them, however. He walked around and looked at the _____. But he did not see anyone new.
- C 041 The king and queen sadly watched their handsome _____. "I am afraid the party is a failure," said the queen. "It does not look like _____ will fall in love tonight," said the king.
- C 042 It was time for the _____ to begin. The prince danced with the young women one by one. But he did not talk to them or even _____. When each dance was over he just bowed and _____. He did not ask their names.
- C 043 When Cinderella's carriage finally _____ front of the castle, the music in the dance hall suddenly stopped. The _____ of horns announced the new guest. Everyone turned to look. The doors opened. Cinderella came in. She looked so beautiful that everyone began to _____. She floated as she walked. Her blue dress shimmered. Her hair _____ like gold. The diamonds in her tiara sent little lights around the room. But her smile was the _____ of all. Cinderella felt happier than _____. She was freed from her slavery at home and was out in the _____ at last.

- C 044 At that _____ the prince fell in love. "Who is this _____ princess?" he thought to himself. He hurried to _____ the new girl. He wanted to ask her name, but he was too _____ to speak. So he took her arm, and walked with her to the _____ of the room. The orchestra played a slow song.
- C 045 Cinderella and the prince _____ to dance. Everyone _____ the dance floor so the two could dance alone. They looked _____ together. They circled around and around the _____ of the great hall. Cinderella _____ she was dreaming. She was afraid she would wake up at home again in the dark kitchen.
- C 046 The other guests were curious about the _____, too. Even her own stepmother and stepsisters did not _____ her. They wondered who she was. They wanted to know how they could get a dress like _____.
- C 047 The evening _____. The prince never left Cinderella's _____. They danced to every song. Everyone talked about the happy _____. Everyone had _____ to say, except the prince and Cinderella. They just smiled and looked into each other's _____. Late in the evening, when the dancing was over, the young _____ finally went before the group.
- C 048 He raised his _____ and prepared to speak. He wanted to make a _____. He was going to ask Cinderella to be his bride.
- C 049 The prince looked over at his _____. The king and queen were smiling. They looked very happy. They nodded their heads, _____ to say "Yes!"
- C 050 _____ the clock began to _____. It was twelve o'clock. Cinderella suddenly remembered her _____. She was enjoying herself so much that she completely forgot about the time. Now she quickly pushed her _____ back from the royal table. She stood up, and ran _____ the door as fast as she could go. The clock struck again and again.

- C 051 Cinderella kicked off her glass shoes so that she could run faster. She knew that in a few _____ her beautiful gown would be rags again.
- C 052 So although she _____ to pick up both shoes she could not stop when she dropped _____ them. She flew out of the great hall in her bare feet. She hid herself behind the door _____.
- C 053 Her old clothes were back. She looked for her carriage, but it was no longer there. Cinderella felt very sad. She looked at the _____ that she still held in her hand. Then she ran away into the _____ before anyone could see her.
- C 054 Everyone was surprised when Cinderella _____ so quickly. The prince soon found the glass shoe that she left behind. He _____ and held it close to his heart. “The girl who can _____ this shoe is the one I will marry,” he announced to everyone. “I must find her.”
- C 055 _____, Cinderella’s stepmother and stepsisters _____ home from the prince’s party. They talked about the prince and his strange princess. Why _____ she left so quickly? The prince was in love _____. He wanted to marry her. The king and queen liked her, too. “What a _____ girl!” said Cinderella’s stepmother. “I would never run away from a prince!” said one sister. “I would still _____ dancing with him,” said the other.
- C 056 Cinderella listened to her family’s _____. She smiled to herself. They could not guess her secret. But she was _____. She not only danced a lot, but then she _____ home with no shoes. _____, her head and her feet were aching. She _____ her family home with a warm meal, and then curled up _____ the fire to sleep. She dreamed of the prince. He was looking for her. But he _____ know her name. How would he find her?

- C 057 From the _____, the prince searched for Cinderella. The glass shoe was the only clue _____. He went from village to town to _____ with the shoe. He wanted to find the girl who it belonged to. Each lady he met was _____ to try it on. Though many ladies, young and old, tried on the glass shoe, no woman could fit her _____ into it. The prince finally came to Cinderella's house. Her two sisters _____ around him. Each of them wanted to be the _____ to try on the shoe. This was their last chance to marry the prince.
- C 058 But the glass shoe was too small. One of the sisters thought to _____ her big toe so that the shoe _____ fit. The other planned to cut off a piece of her heel to make her foot smaller. The prince wanted to _____ from this horrible family as quickly as possible. But _____ mother said, "_____, you must let them try!" So the prince waited while the two sisters went to the kitchen to get a carving knife.
- C 059 When they opened the kitchen door, Cinderella _____. Her heart jumped when she saw the _____. "Cinderella!" shouted her stepmother. "Get back in the kitchen!" But this time Cinderella did not do what she was _____. She went to the prince. "_____ I try on the shoe?" she asked him. "_____,", he answered, though he did not recognize her. He saw only a pretty servant girl.
- C 060 _____ Cinderella's stepmother could stop her, Cinderella quickly slipped her foot into the glass shoe. Then she _____ the other one from her apron pocket. "I have the other one to _____," she said. And she put that one on too.
- C 061 The prince was _____. He could not understand how his beautiful princess had been kept as a servant. But he did not _____. He got down on one knee. "Cinderella, they call you?" he asked. "Will you _____?" "Yes," answered the _____. "And please call me 'Ella.'"
- C 062 Cinderella's stepmother fainted. Her stepsisters turned red _____. But the prince just took Cinderella _____. "Come with me, Ella," he said. And he took her away to the castle to _____ his parents.

C 063 Cinderella hoped that her father would return from his _____ in time for the royal wedding. He _____, and they all lived happily ever after.

C 064 _____