

穴埋め練習ディクテーション・シートの使い方

- ・書籍に添付の MP3 CD の音声を聞きとって、下線部を埋めてください。
- ・左のアルファベット付き番号は該当する音声ファイル名を示しています。
- ・繰り返し何度聞いても構いません。
- ・正解は書籍の本文で確認してください。

B 001 _____ a time, there was a rich gentleman. He lived in a far away country. This man owned many great _____. He bought and sold beautiful things from all over the world. His ships brought _____ and _____ from India, and gold and diamonds from Africa. In his shop people could buy fine things at fair prices. Business was good and the man was very happy. He lived in a big _____ on a _____ with his three sons and three daughters.

B 002 The girls were _____ and pretty. The boys were clever and strong. Their kind father sent them to the best schools, and he _____ them the best things. These lucky children were happy when they were _____, but over the years they changed. The _____ boys began to fight over the family business. The _____ older girls became greedy and unhappy.

B 003 They had so much, but it was never _____. They always asked Father for _____. Each year he worked harder than the year before, but the family did not get happier when he made more money. Father grew _____. He did not know what he should do.

B 004 Only the youngest girl changed for the better when she grew up. She was the prettiest of the _____, so her father always called her Beauty. Beauty's sisters were very jealous _____, because she was also _____ and _____. Beauty was happy with simple things. She liked birds and books. She spent her time walking in the garden or reading books with Father. She always said _____ and _____, and never asked for more than he gave. Every _____ she gave some of her own money to the _____ at church. Beauty's kind heart showed in her face. Each year Father's love for her grew. Her sisters did not like it.

- B 005 Beauty's _____ sisters were very proud of their family's money. They thought that their riches and beautiful things made them _____ than other people. They laughed at poor people and were mean to _____. They were rude at school and at home. They were especially mean to Beauty. But even if her sisters were mean to her, Beauty loved them _____.
- B 006 This family was _____ for its money. So men came from all over the _____ to try to marry the girls. The two eldest threw fancy parties to entertain their many friends. Each evening ended with the song "I Will Only Marry A Prince." Because, you _____, they both wanted to be _____. Only Beauty did not go to the parties. She was not _____ to marry.
- B 007 Then one winter, _____ hit the family. A fire burned down their big house on the hill. They lost _____ their treasured things. Then a great storm sank Father's ships to the bottom of the sea. All his business was _____. In just one month, they went from rich to poor. Now Father's only house was a little cottage near the forest. He sadly _____ his children that their life in the city was _____. They would have to move to the country and become farmers.
- B 008 The two _____ were very angry. How could they live without their expensive things? They wanted to live in the city. Now they _____ to marry quickly. Even if they did not become queens, they could still live _____. But the young men were no _____ interested in them. Other young women did not want to be their friends anymore. They were so _____ when they were rich, now people laughed since they were poor. No one _____ them another place to live.
- B 009 But people felt sorry for Beauty. She was _____ nice to everyone, rich or poor. Many young men still wanted to marry her, even if she had _____. Her lady friends invited her to stay with _____. But Beauty did not want to stay in the _____ like her sisters. She wanted to help her father to make a _____ in the country.

- B 010 At first the _____ family was sad. Their new home was _____. Its rooms were dark and dirty. It stood _____ at the edge of a forest. The two older girls were lonely. Now they had no servants or friends. They did not know what to do. They stayed in bed all day. They _____ about losing their friends and fine clothes.
- B 011 Beauty _____ how sad her sisters _____. She wanted to cheer them up. Each day she went to the fields to find wildflowers. There the birds and animals made her smile. She cleaned and decorated the house all _____.
- B 012 She got _____ from the cow and cooked nice things to eat. The _____ was hard. As a merchant's daughter she had never worked. Now she said to herself _____, "I must put on a happy face, and try to make it better."
- B 013 Soon the farm was growing enough food for the family to eat. Beauty, Father and her brothers began to _____ stronger than before. The _____ and exercise were good for them, and they were happy again. Beauty looked more beautiful than ever, while her sisters grew _____ and _____. Beauty looked after them. She made their _____ with a smile, yet they were mean.
- B 014 "Why does she look so happy?" the sisters asked each other. "She is a _____." They were lazy and did not help with the housework. _____, Beauty was kind to everyone. She did not think _____ of her sisters. Father was thankful for all her work, and in the evenings they read books together around the fire. _____ the two sisters, everyone was happy.
- B 015 After a year passed on the _____, a letter came. One of Father's ships survived the storm. It came back from sea full of cargo. Father decided to travel to the _____. He wanted to get his business back. Everyone was excited, especially the older daughters. They dreamed of going back to their old life. They got out of bed, and _____ they helped. They _____ their father's bags, and asked him for presents of clothes, _____ and perfume.

- B 016 Beauty listened, and _____. She was not sure that they would be rich again. She thought that her sisters' things would _____ most of Father's money from the ship. So Beauty did not ask for anything. But Father wanted to _____ a present for Beauty, too. Beauty did not want to trouble him, _____ she felt that she had to ask for something. "Dear Father," she said. Then she smiled at him. "Will you bring me a red rosebud? Roses are my favorite flower. We don't have any _____."
- B 017 "How _____. You will have a rose, my dear," he promised. He _____ goodbye and set off on his horse.
- B 018 The sea was _____. It was a long, difficult trip. Father rode his horse through the dark forest and over the mountains. Finally, he arrived at the sea. But his heart was heavy when he _____ his ship. It was emptied by _____, and left to run onto the rocks. Father _____ for home again with nothing. He was as poor as when he began.
- B 019 On the _____ back the _____ turned bad. It began to snow. While he rode through the forest, Father thought of his _____ home. He kept going late into the night. He was almost there. But then the snow grew deep and Father lost his way. _____ cried close by in the _____. The horse jumped at the sound. Father fell off his horse and it ran away. He tried to run after the horse, but the snow was very deep. It was difficult to move fast. He thought he would die in the cold. Maybe _____ animals would eat him.
- B 020 Suddenly Father saw a road _____ with lamps. When he walked down the road, the wind stopped. The snow was gone. _____ trees heavy with fruit and flowers grew on each side. His horse was there on the green grass near a great _____. Although it was winter everywhere else, here it was _____. Father thanked God for this lucky find. He hurried toward the castle gate. He hoped to find food and a warm place to sleep. After climbing the _____, he stopped at the great front door. He _____, "Hello! Is anyone there?"
- B 021 There was no answer. The door _____ open, so he went in. He walked from _____ room to the next. Each room was prettier than the last, but no one was home. The castle was empty.

- B 022 In one room there was a big fire in the _____. By the fire there was a nice chair and a table. A delicious _____ was set on the table. There were many good things to eat. There was fresh milk to drink. Father was very hungry, but he decided he _____ wait to be invited.
- B 023 But he needed something to drink _____. He could not wait for that. He decided to drink a cup of warm milk by the fire. He hoped the _____ of the castle would come back soon. It was _____ quiet. The drink made him feel sleepy. _____ he fell asleep in front of the fire.
- B 024 Father woke up late at night. He was still alone. Now he was _____ with hunger, so he ate the food alone. When he was _____, he decided to walk around the castle _____. Although he did not feel any danger, the deep silence was strange.
- B 025 He was _____ and _____. When he came to a room with a big bed, he _____ down on it and fell into a sweet sleep. He dreamed that he lived in this castle with his family.
- B 026 After a good long sleep, Father felt much better. He woke to a sunny morning. The birds were singing in the garden. Father was surprised to see _____ with sweet cakes and fruit on a table next to his bed. He did not see any of his old clothes. In their place he found a set of new clothes and a fine _____ of _____. He put these on, but there was no mirror to see himself in. "All this for me," he said to himself. "How lucky I am. But who is my _____?" He looked out of the window and saw a large bush with red roses just within _____. Then he remembered his promise to Beauty. "I'll take this _____ rose for my youngest daughter," he said in a cheery voice. He took a _____ from the table and cut off one rosebud.
- B 027 At once he heard a loud noise behind him. He _____ and was shocked to see a huge, ugly beast in the doorway. It _____ like an angry animal. It was big and wrinkled like an elephant, yet _____ all over with a horrible bear-like face. "What are you doing?" _____ the Beast. Father was afraid. He fell to his knees. "You are a thief!" said the Beast. "I _____ you into my home. I gave you food and clothing. And you steal my roses. Is this _____ you thank me? You will _____ with your life!"

- B 028 “Oh, sir! I am so sorry!” said Father. He _____ before the Beast.
“Thank you for helping me. _____ your kindness to me was great, I thought that the rose would be nothing at all. Yet I understand why you are angry. Please _____ me. I can explain.”
- B 029 “Do not lie to me. Speak the _____ and I will listen,” growled the Beast.
- B 030 So Father _____ the story of all his bad luck. He explained why he went on the trip to the sea. He told the Beast about Beauty’s _____. “Even a _____ man could not make my other children happy,” he said. “But I thought I could please my Beauty with her simple gift.” _____ listening to Father’s story, the Beast said in a _____, “I will forget about the rose, if you _____ me one of your daughters.”
- B 031 “No sir! Not that!” _____ Father. “I can not give you my child.”
- B 032 His children were dearer to him than life _____.
- B 033 “_____! I have already decided,” said the Beast. “I will _____ home. But you must promise to come back in one month with one of your _____. Your daughter must come to me because she wants to _____ you. _____ any of them love you as much as you love them. But you must come back, and if you come back alone, you will _____.”
- B 034 Father thought that a month with his family was _____
_____. He could say goodbye to them. But he _____ send one of his daughters to this ugly monster. He promised to return in one month.
- B 035 “You _____ take some riches from my castle for your family,” said the Beast. “In the next room there is _____. You may _____ it with all the things that you want. I will have the box sent to your home. _____ now, and take your Beauty _____. Tell your daughters the truth about me. And do not try to _____. I will be watching you.” With these words, the Beast went away.

- B 036 Father was terrified of his _____ to kill him. Still, he felt a little better now that he could give something more to his children before he died. He filled the box with jewels and _____. When he went _____ to get his old horse, he found a _____ young horse to ride. But Father _____ from the castle with a heavy heart.
- B 037 The horse ran _____ the wind, so the trip back to the farm went quickly. His children met Father _____ after his long journey. When they saw his new horse and the fine clothes that he _____, they clapped their hands and danced with joy. Father tried to smile, but he _____. He looked half dead when he _____ his horse. He gave Beauty her rose. Then he began to cry.
- B 038 “This rose is my _____ for you, Beauty,” he said. He _____ his head sadly. Beauty took the rosebud in her hand. She was surprised to see the _____ open in her hand. It was the most beautiful red rose in the world.
- B 039 _____ Father tried to hide the truth, but the children wanted him to _____. So he told them about the journey and the pirates. Finally he told them about his experience at the castle. _____ fell from his eyes _____ he spoke.
- B 040 _____ of the story the two older girls also started to cry. They pulled _____ hair like mad women. “Now we will never _____ again!” said one. “And it’s all because of you!” said the other. She _____ at Beauty. “You and your _____ gift! You should love money more than roses like us. Then Father could be safe!”
- B 041 “How can you _____ stand there?” asked the first sister.
- B 042 Beauty stood quietly _____ her father. She did not cry. She _____ her rose close to her heart. She said bravely, “I must go to the Beast. Father will not die. I love Father more than life itself. I will protect him with _____.” After she said this, Beauty cut her _____ with a rose thorn and let three drops of blood _____ to the snow.

- B 043 “Don’t go!” her _____ cried out. “You are only seventeen. We will go and kill the Beast!”
- B 044 But Father knew that they had _____. His boys would surely die _____ of the terrible Beast. “No, _____. You are strong, but the Beast is many times stronger. We cannot win against his _____. Of course, Beauty should not go either. I am an _____ man. I have lived a good life. I am sorry to say goodbye like this, but I am not afraid to die.”
- B 045 Beauty _____ listen. “I am young,” she said slowly, “but I am not afraid to die. I can not live here without you, Father. I will die of a broken heart. You _____ go to the Beast without me. I will follow you.”
- B 046 Beauty’s brothers tried _____ to stop her, but she would not change her _____. Her sisters _____ sad, too, but really they were happy. They wanted Beauty to leave home. They had better chances of finding rich _____ if Beauty was not there.
- B 047 Father was so _____ to be back home. He forgot all about the box of treasures from the Beast’s castle. He was surprised that night _____ he found the big box _____ of his own bed. He decided _____ tell his children about the new riches. He was afraid that they would want to _____ to the city. He wanted to stay on the farm. So Father told only Beauty. When she saw the great riches inside the box, she _____ for a little while. Finally she began to speak.
- B 048 She told Father that while he was _____, three young men came to the house. They asked the girls to marry them. Her two sisters were _____. Beauty hoped that father would let them get married. He could give them _____ of the riches from the box as a wedding present. Father _____.
- B 049 When the month _____ short, Beauty said goodbye to her home. She said goodbye to all the people and the things that she loved. Everyone cried _____ Beauty. She did not want to make them feel even _____. With sad hearts Beauty and her father got on the Beast’s beautiful horse and rode to his castle. The horse _____. It was a quick trip.

- B 050 As they _____ down the castle _____, the cold weather _____ again gave way to grass and flowering orange trees. The evening sky was bright with _____. Soft music came from the beautiful castle. “The Beast _____ be very hungry,” said Beauty. “He puts on _____ a show to welcome his food.” She was very afraid, but still she felt _____ by the beauty all around her.
- B 051 _____ the first time Father came there, every room in the castle was warm and bright. _____ before, no one was there. Father led his daughter to the room with the fire. Now there were two _____ by the fire. A delicious dinner for two was on the table. Red rosebuds in a vase on the table burst into _____ when Beauty sat down. Because she was very hungry _____ the journey, Beauty ate a lot. She thought that maybe this was her _____ meal. Father thought so, too. He was very sad. Still he _____ the meal together with her. He tried to be _____.
- B 052 When they _____ eating, Beauty took one of the roses in her hand. Suddenly they heard an angry roar behind them. Father’s face went _____ with fear. When the Beast came in, Beauty was shocked. Father tried to _____ her about him, but the Beast’s horrible _____ could not be explained in _____. Now Beauty understood.
- B 053 Beauty wanted to _____, but didn’t. She looked into the Beast’s eyes. Her father said that he was _____ after one month, like he promised. He _____ his youngest daughter, Beauty. She would stay with the Beast.
- B 054 “Did you choose to come here of _____ _____ _____?” the Beast asked Beauty.
- B 055 “Yes,” answered Beauty. Her voice _____ small and afraid.
- B 056 “I am happy to hear that,” said the Beast. “_____ you may take your father to the next room. You will find two _____ boxes there. Choose some things for your brothers and sisters to _____ you _____.”

- B 057 To her father the Beast said, "You are a good man, because you _____ your promise. You are _____. I will send the gifts, but you must never come back."
- B 058 Then the Beast _____ them alone again.
- B 059 Beauty and Father _____ the next room. There they found great riches. You never saw _____ wonderful things. They filled the boxes with all they could. _____, Father did not want to say goodbye. He held his daughter close in his _____.
- B 060 "Oh _____, do not do this! Run away and be safe! I will kill the Beast," cried Father.
- B 061 "No, Father," Beauty sighed. "You must go. Trust that I will be _____."
- B 062 Beauty's father left the castle. Now he was a _____ man than ever before. He felt hope while he _____ the castle gardens. The Beast's kindness made father think that he _____ see Beauty again. But poor Beauty felt _____ that she would never see her father again. When he rode out of sight, she fell to her knees and cried.
- B 063 After _____ Beauty decided to look around the castle. She wanted to enjoy her last day on _____. She believed that the Beast was going to eat her soon. The castle was very pleasing to her. She went from place to place. She liked everything that she _____. Each set of rooms looked prettier _____. She saw beautiful lakes and gardens from the windows. Then she saw a golden door. It had a _____ on it. She stopped and read the words:
- B 064 Beauty's _____.
- B 065 Beauty opened the door and _____ with _____. Was this big room all for her?

- B 066 On one wall there was a library. It had all her favorite _____. It also had many new books. There was a _____ in the room. There was also fine furniture, and a large, mirrored closet. The closet was filled with beautiful dresses and _____ jewels. Beauty looked at herself in the mirror. Then she _____ the large windows at the garden.
- B 067 Beauty said aloud, “_____ I am going to die today, why do I have all this?” She thought that maybe the Beast meant for her to live _____ longer. Or maybe, even, _____ longer. This idea made her feel better. She took a book from the _____ and opened it. On the first page she read these words:
- B 068 For Beauty, my dear
You are the _____ here _____ and you will see
How happy life will be with me
- B 069 Beauty suddenly felt sad again. “The only thing that I _____,” she said to herself, “is to see how my poor Father is doing now.” When these words came from her lips, her mirror _____ and she saw her father _____. He was getting off his horse at the cottage. Her brothers and sisters came out to meet him. Father and the boys looked sad, but her sisters smiled and talked. They were happy that Beauty was not there. Then the mirror _____ and Beauty saw her own face again.
- B 070 A tear fell from her eye. Beauty looked around the room again. Maybe she would be safe here in the castle _____. But the silence made her feel lonely. _____ her own voice, there was not a sound in the castle. So she played music and _____ in her room all afternoon.
- B 071 In the evening, she found a delicious dinner on the table. While she was eating, she heard the loud _____ of the Beast. She was afraid. She could not _____. Was he coming to eat her?
- B 072 Beauty’s hair _____ when the Beast came near. But his voice was soft.
- B 073 “Beauty, _____ sit at the table with you?”
- B 074 “If you want _____,” said the girl.

- B 075 “No,” said the Beast. “I _____ your feelings. I will go away if you wish. _____ I so ugly to you?”
- B 076 Beauty looked at the Beast’s face. “_____, you are much kinder than you look,” she said.
- B 077 “Thank you _____ . I love all the books and music.”
- B 078 “You’re welcome,” said the Beast. “I am an _____ beast, but I promise _____ hurt you. Please eat your food.”
- B 079 Then Beauty started to enjoy her dinner. She was very hungry from all the _____ that day. She found that the Beast was easy _____ . She was not lonely anymore. They talked late into the night.
- B 080 Suddenly, the Beast surprised Beauty. He came very _____ her and said, “I love you, Beauty. Will you marry me?”
- B 081 Beauty’s face turned white. She wanted to _____ . Would the Beast run after her?
- B 082 She _____ until she felt strong enough to speak. Although she was afraid to anger the monster, she said gently, “No, I cannot.”
- B 083 The Beast stepped back _____ she just hit him in the face. He looked sadder than any person in the world. His big, _____ filled with tears. He turned away from her and said, “_____ good night, Beauty.” He did not look back. He left the room.
- B 084 That night in her own room Beauty thought about the _____, _____ Beast. It was too bad that he was _____, but he looked so strange. “I _____ try not to care about his looks,” she said to herself. When these words came from her lips, her mirror changed and she saw the face of a _____ in it. He was standing in the garden with a red rosebud in his hand. He looked as _____ as a prince, but he was very sad. Beauty saw that he held the rose to his heart. He was crying. Then the mirror went dark, and Beauty saw her _____ face again. She cried too. Who was this sad prince?

- B 085 The next morning Beauty went _____ the garden. It was a _____ day. The birds were singing. While she walked, she smelled the roses along the _____. Then she saw the place from her magic mirror. She _____ the prince, but she saw only a nest of baby bluebirds in a bush. After this, she _____ came here when the weather was nice.
- B 086 By the time that it was summer, Beauty felt very happy in her new home. She _____ as she pleased _____ the day. She _____ and _____ and walked in the gardens. Every evening the Beast visited with her during dinner. When she got to know him, Beauty learned that the Beast was wiser than he looked. She became _____ him, and enjoyed his visits. They talked and laughed _____ old friends.
- B 087 The _____ was that every night when it got late, the Beast _____ say, "I love you, Beauty. Would you _____?" And every night Beauty had to answer, "No, I cannot." _____ the Beast's eyes looked sadder than the night before. She was not afraid of him now. She did not want to _____ sad.
- B 088 One night she finally _____ to him about it. "I am _____, Beast. I know your love is true, and I _____ to our time together. But I cannot lie. I do not love you. I will never marry you. But I can always be your friend. Isn't that enough for you?"
- B 089 "Well, then I _____ marry," replied the Beast. "But if you _____ to be just friends, what _____ can I do? At least promise me that you will stay here forever."
- B 090 At first Beauty was _____. What could she say? She liked living at the castle. She did not want to leave. But she _____ her father very much.
- B 091 "I could promise to stay here _____," she said at last. "But please let me visit dear Father _____. I saw in my magic mirror that he is very _____. He needs me at his side." With this, Beauty began to cry.

- B 092 “Please _____,” said the Beast. “You may _____ your father. But come back in seven days _____ I will die. You will never see me again.”
- B 093 “No, no!” Beauty cried _____. “I cannot let you die! Just let me go. I promise to come back in a _____.”
- B 094 “Okay, then you _____ your father tomorrow,” the Beast said. “But do not forget _____ promise to return.”
- B 095 Then he put a small box _____ and said, “Take this _____. When you wish to see me again, _____ your finger. Goodbye, Beauty.” The Beast looked at Beauty. His eyes were sadder than _____. Then he left the room.
- B 096 Later, Beauty opened the box. _____ there was a simple golden ring. Beauty hated to leave the Beast, because now _____ close friends. She knew she was causing him pain, but she could not _____ Father again. “What should I do?” she asked herself. Just then her mirror changed and she saw a _____ in the glass. “Trust your heart more than your _____, Beauty, and you will be happy,” said the fairy. Beauty thought about _____. She put the box under her pillow and went to sleep. She dreamed of her _____ days in her father’s home.
- B 097 When Beauty _____ the next morning, she was in a strange room. She could hear street sounds outside. _____ a window she could see the red and yellow of autumn leaves on _____. Then she remembered the Beast and looked under her pillow. The box with the ring _____.
- B 098 A feeling of _____ came over her. But where was _____? She got out of bed.
- B 099 She found that the closet in the room _____ many beautiful dresses and jewels _____. She chose a beautiful blue and white gown, a ruby necklace and pearl earrings. She put them on and looked at herself _____. She looked wonderful. But why did the Beast’s magic _____ her here?

- B 100 Suddenly, Beauty _____ a cry. She ran out of the room. In the next room she found Father. He was in bed. He was very _____. When Beauty took Father's hand, he opened his eyes. He was surprised to see Beauty, because he thought that she was _____. Father sat up. He was _____ to see his youngest daughter again. He asked her many questions. She told him about her life _____ _____. Father said, "Now I will die a happy man, because I know that _____ _____."
- B 101 But _____ she told him about her promise to return to the Beast in seven days, Father begged her _____ go away again. Her brothers were away in the _____. Her sisters moved to town with the _____ from the Beast's castle. They made Father come with them against his will. The sisters did not have husbands. They _____ at a party. They were back to their _____. They wanted to become queens.
- B 102 When her sisters came home they were very _____ to see Beauty. She looked too good. She was _____ like a princess. When they heard her story, they were _____. They did not like to think of _____ things that the Beast gave to their younger sister.
- B 103 "_____ should she be happy _____ we are not?" said one sister. "It's not fair."
- B 104 "She's lucky," agreed the _____. "But I know how to _____. We will have her stay here for longer _____. After she breaks her promise, the Beast will be angry. He will eat her up. Then maybe we can go to live with him _____."
- B 105 "Good idea, sister," said the first one. "We must _____ Beauty does not return to the castle."
- B 106 With this _____ in mind, the sisters began to give their father _____ food. Each day Father got a little weaker. They hoped for Father to die _____. Then Beauty could not go back to the castle _____.

- B 107 Beauty did not know what she _____. Every _____ she thought of her promise to the Beast. She wanted to _____ the ring on her finger. She wanted to go back to the castle. But each day Father seemed to need her _____. She could not leave Father yet.
- B 108 On the _____ day her old father was nearly dead and Beauty was not thinking about the Beast. Then she remembered his _____: "Come back in seven days _____ I will die. You will never _____ again."
- B 109 That night Beauty looked in her _____ and said, "I _____ how my Beast is doing now?" _____ the mirror changed and she saw the Beast. He was lying on the snow under a rosebush by the lake at the castle. He was dead. Then the mirror went dark and Beauty saw her own face again. Her face was _____ with tears.
- B 110 Beauty realized that she made a _____ mistake. Why did she kill him?
- B 111 "I was so worried about Father, I forgot about the Beast. _____ I miss him," she said. Beauty took the ring _____ her pillow and put it on her finger. "I wish to go back to the castle and see my _____ Beast again," she said.
- B 112 _____ Beauty was back in her room at the castle. She _____ outside. The sky was cloudy. It was snowing in the _____. All was white. Beauty _____ the Beast under the rosebush by the lake. She _____ his hand. It was cold. Beauty looked up at the rosebush. Flower petals were falling like _____ snow.
- B 113 "No!" _____ Beauty. "What have I _____? I'm sorry I broke my promise! Dear Beast, you were so good to me. Why didn't I marry you? I don't care _____ you are ugly."
- B 114 Beauty _____ her finger with a thorn from the rosebush. Three drops of _____ fell to the snow _____ the Beast. "I love you!" she cried again and again. "I love you!"
- B 115 Her tears fell on the Beast's _____ face.

- B 116 Suddenly the snow stopped _____. The sun came out. The air grew _____. Then the rosebuds on the bush all began to bloom _____. Beauty looked up at the roses.
- B 117 When she looked down again the Beast was _____. In his place was the handsome prince from her magic mirror.
- B 118 The prince opened his eyes and said, “Beauty, you _____! When you broke your promise, I _____ die.”
- B 119 “But where is the Beast _____?” said Beauty. “I do not understand.”
- B 120 “_____,” said the prince. “_____, long ago, I thought I was important because I was rich and handsome. I did not care about other people. Then _____ an old woman asked me _____. I did not want to help her.
- B 121 I just laughed at her. The old woman was a _____. She said I didn’t understand how to be a good man. So she _____ an ugly beast and took away all of my kingdom’s people. Only the true love of a _____ could save me.
- B 122 “I am the prince of this _____ and you have broken the witch’s spell. It is because you could see _____ my ugly looks. Now, if it _____ you, you can be my princess. Will you marry me, Beauty?” he _____ once again.
- B 123 And _____ Beauty said, “Yes, I will.”
- B 124 “I am Prince Rodwick, and you will _____ Beauty,” said the prince. Then he kissed her.
- B 125 Suddenly the castle _____ with beautiful colored lights. _____ came through the air. People appeared. Everyone was waving and smiling. Beauty and Prince Rodwick walked _____ through the garden.
- B 126 When they _____ the castle, Beauty found that her brothers were there. They were home safe from _____. Father was there too, and he was _____ again. The next day Beauty and Prince Rodwick had a wonderful wedding and they _____ lived happily ever after.

B 127 What happened to Beauty's _____ mean sisters, you ask? The fairy changed them into stone statues as punishment for their _____. They stood out in the castle garden and never _____ Beauty again.

B 128 _____.